

NATHAN ADAMS

Nathan Adams is a certified professional career coach, a career thought leader, and certified professional résumé writer. He has helped thousands of career seekers jumpstart their career search. With more than 15 years of career coaching and résumé writing experience, Nathan is considered a leader in the industry. He is passionate about his work and dedicated to helping job seekers navigate the treacherous waters of career search.

Here is what a senior director recently had to say about working with Nathan: "Nathan was very committed as my career coach. He was a great listener and followed up with all appropriate details. He is the person to have on your side when you need a sounding board for your ideas. His communication skills are exceptional."

Prior to launching his career coaching and résumé writing practice, Nathan worked in various manufacturing engineering and project management roles.

Expertise

- Career Transition Coaching
- Personal Branding
- Salary Negotiation
- Career Search Strategy
- Social Media
- Interviewing
- Professional Résumé Writing
- Interviewing
- LinkedIn Profile Writing

Experience

- CAREER TRANSITION COACHING: Coached senior-level professionals in transition.
- RÉSUMÉ WRITING: Professionally reviewed and developed more than 2,500 résumés.
- SALARY NEGOTIATION: Helped numerous professionals negotiate more attractive offer packages.
- PUBLIC SPEAKING: Frequent guest speaker at job hunter support groups on career-related topics.
- SUBJECT MATTER EXPERT: Quoted as a careers expert in numerous newspaper articles.

Education

M.S., Mechanical Engineering, Clemson University
B.S., Mechanical Engineering, Clemson University
Certified Career Transition Consultant (CCTC)
Certified Professional Career Coach (CPCC)
Certified Professional Résumé Writer (CPRW)
Sigma Six Green Belt certified

Memberships

Professional Association of Resume Writers and Career Coaches (PARW/CC)
Career Directors International (CDI)

